VERIFICATION STATEMENT

This certification is valid solely for the scope, sites, and products listed herein. It substantiates recycled content claims based on supplier documentation, internal data, and verification where applicable. This certificate does not guarantee recycled content in every individual unit and may be subject to review in the event of any material changes in sourcing, composition, or production processes. The certification does not imply compliance with other regulatory, environmental, or safety standards beyond those explicitly stated and should not be used as the sole basis for procurement decisions.
